

Declaration of Private Property and Estate

Let it be known that all property, possessions, assets, and interests held or used by jonathan-daniel: clements are hereby declared to be the sole private estate of the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Living Trust.

These properties include but are not limited to:

- All land and dwellings lawfully claimed and occupied
- All modes of conveyance including automobile(s) and transport vessels
- All intellectual, physical, digital, spiritual, and ancestral property

No third party, government agency, or corporate body shall claim interest, lien, or authority over said estate.

This declaration serves as lawful notice of private property under ecclesiastical jurisdiction and is non-transferable, non-commercial, and immune to seizure without lawful claim rebutted under divine authority.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.

Declaration of Trust Banking and Economic Independence

Let this be entered into the divine and living record: the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Living Trust of jonathan-daniel: clements operates its own economic system, banking method, and private exchange process under ecclesiastical law.

All instruments, promissory notes, financial exchanges, and credits issued by the trust are:

- Lawfully generated and not subject to fiat regulatory systems
- Governed internally without external fiduciary oversight
- Conducted within the lawful jurisdiction of private agreement

The trust and its accounts are exempt from public banking control, audit, or taxation, and hold standing under sovereign capacity.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.

Declaration of Ecclesiastical Immunity from Statutory Code

By divine decree and authority of the living man, I, jonathan-daniel:
clements, do hereby declare immunity from all statutory, corporate, municipal, and public policy codes that presume to bind without lawful agreement.

This includes but is not limited to:

- Civil and criminal statutes not agreed upon
- Corporate code applied to commercial entities
- Maritime and admiralty law presumptions
- Color-of-law mandates and emergency orders

As a living ecclesiastical being and sovereign trustee of the private trust, I am exempt from participation in foreign legal systems that violate conscience, natural law, or divine order.

Sealed in private ecclesiastical authority. No witness required.
